Understanding Air Infiltration Test Forms
Course # 0612770, 1 Hour, Earn 1 CEU

COURSE DESCRIPTION

On July 1, 2017, mandatory air infiltration testing requirements from the Florida Building Code – Energy Conservation were implemented for residential buildings. In December 2017, the Florida Building Commission approved forms for the collection and record for compliance with that provision along with the voluntary duct testing provision. This course reviews the information on these forms as well as statutory provisions for who can provide testing. By the end of the course, the participant should be able to recognize forms approved by the Florida Building Commission for duct and house testing as found in the Technical Assistance Manual, identify the code required provisions on the form and differentiate between acceptable test entities by statute vs local approval.
